Section 4: Philosophy

At Chilliwack Restorative Justice and Youth Advocacy, we believe in the rights and dignity of all participants. All of our records and facilitations are held to the highest confidentiality. It is expected that all staff and volunteers will sign off on codes of conduct and confidentiality, as we are in a position of trust within the community.

Volunteers will need to have a background check done, and will be interviewed by a member of staff and a volunteer, at minimum. Training is provided free of charge to volunteers and participation is expected.

We actively work to prevent and repair harm. As a result, we must remain balanced to the needs of all parties involved. If there is an instance where you do not feel you would be able to maintain impartiality, you are required to remove yourself from the process.

This is not meant to be an exhaustive list, but an example of the expectations that volunteers will be subject to. If you have any questions, you may contact the Executive Director at executivedirector@restoringjustice.ca or via telephone at 604-393-3023.

Thank you for your interest in Chilliwack Restorative Justice and Youth Advocacy!
